KEYNOTE SPEAKER

RICHARD W. MILLER

WYN AND WILLIAM Y. HUTCHINSON PROFESSOR OF PHILOSOPHY AND DIRECTOR, PROGRAM ON ETHICS AND PUBLIC LIFE, CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Richard Miller's recent work on global justice concerns such topics as duties toward the global poor, the relationship between transnational duties and duties toward compatriots, the ethics of war, moral problems of globalization and global climate change, and the moral implications of American power. His work on social justice concerns such topics as the moral foundations of egalitarianism, the moral status of group loyalties, and the proper political role of evaluations of ways of life. His many writings in political philosophy, ethics and the philosophy of science include Analyzing Marx (1984), Fact and Method (1987), Moral Differences (1992), and Globalizing Justice: The Ethics of Poverty and Power (2010).
